Organization Narrative

Fish & Richardson's Houston office is home to the city's premier intellectual property practice. The office is a vital part of Fish's national IP practice. Our Houston attorneys are widely recognized for their significant pro bono, community, and LGBTQ+ contributions. Major cases for some of the firm's top clients are often managed from our Houston office, as are regional and multinational matters for organizations in sectors such as life sciences, oil and gas, manufacturing, technology, telecommunications, and consumer products. Litigation in the Houston office regularly goes to trial, both in federal court and in the International Trade Commission. This range of clients and cases demands lawyers who seek early responsibility, have excellent communication skills, and are capable of exceptional legal work. Despite its high-stakes practice, the Houston office maintains a collegial and family-friendly atmosphere, with little to no turnover among its lawyers.

Fish & Richardson, the premier global intellectual property law firm, is trusted by the world's most innovative and influential companies. From patent, trademark, and copyright prosecution and counseling to our full-service litigation practice, we work together to provide our clients with exceptional advocacy across the life cycle of intellectual property needs in the U.S. and around the world. Our deep bench of attorneys with first-chair trial experience in every technology makes us the go-to firm for the most technically complex cases. Fish was established in 1878, and now has more than 400 attorneys and technology specialists in the U.S., Europe, and China. Our success is rooted in our creative and inclusive culture, which values the diversity of people, experiences, and perspectives.
