Organization Narrative

Fish & Richardson's Delaware office is located in Wilmington, less than 30 miles south of Philadelphia and just a short train ride from New York and Washington, D.C.. We are located a few blocks from the United States District Court for the District of Delaware, which is home to one of the busiest patent litigation dockets in the country. Our attorneys work on cases both in the District of Delaware and in courts around the country, as well as in the International Trade Commission. We also have a growing practice in corporate, technology, and other complex litigation in Delaware's highly regarded Chancery Court. Our litigators represent both regional and national clients. Our attorneys are also actively involved in post-grant proceedings at the Patent Trial and Appeal Board, including inter partes review. In addition, we have an active prosecution practice, and our attorneys prosecute patents and engage in patent counseling and opinion work for some of the firm's most important national and international clients. Prosecution work in the Delaware office covers a wide range of technologies, including biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, and medical devices.

Fish & Richardson, the premier global intellectual property law firm, is trusted by the world's most innovative and influential companies. From patent, trademark, and copyright prosecution and counseling to our full-service litigation practice, we work together to provide our clients with exceptional advocacy across the life cycle of intellectual property needs in the U.S. and around the world. Our deep bench of attorneys with first-chair trial experience in every technology makes us the go-to firm for the most technically complex cases. Fish was established in 1878, and now has more than 400 attorneys and technology specialists in the U.S., Europe, and China. Our success is rooted in our creative and inclusive culture, which values the diversity of people, experiences, and perspectives. For more information, visit fr.com or follow us at @FishRichardson.
